Attached for your information is a copy of the first finished essay evolving from the China project. It is recom-25X1A mended that this paper be read in conjunction with a research aid prepared by FDD dated 8 September 1953, classified Secret, entitled "Chinese and Soviet Views on Mao as a Marxist Theorist and on the Significance of the Chinese Revolution for the Asian Revolutionary Movement." The Director of the China project, Dr. comments 25X1A 25X1A paper as follows: "It illustrates the manner in which both Moscow and Peking have reserved their long run positions on the question of relative authority within the Communist bloc. There is no question of Titoism here, in our mind; for we believe Peking's ambitions in Asia demand Moscow's collaboration. There is a question of Peking's relative power and freedom of action within the Bloc. In our view, the Titoist question is only likely to be raised if Moscow tries to move in on Peking in such detail as to provoke a profound nationalist reaction. Of such a Soviet move we see no signs." 3. You will note that the report itself is unclassified. However, Agency sponsorship of the research, particularly as it concerns the author of this essay, is classified Secret and should not be acknowledged outside this Agency. 4. This may be of interest to Mr. and your other instructors who are concerned with communist doctrine and China. Additional copies are available for use in training by calling extension 3075.
